

Assignment Attachments Added From the Course Content Collection are not Longer Available for the Students After Submission

Article Number

000076201

Description

When an instructor or an user with enough privileges creates an assignment and then adds attachments from the course content collection to that assignment, those attachments are not longer available for the students after they submit it.

Information

The "Assignment Instructions" only shows the Instructions but not the attachments. The respective attachments are displayed in the right side.
