

Students in Groups Unable to see Their Feedback or the Rubric Associated With a Graded Draft Assignment Submission

Article Number

000091688

Description

In group assignments allowing multiple attempts, an instructor's rubric grades and feedback become invisible to a student if that student has an unsubmitted draft pending. This occurs when a student makes an initial submission, starts a subsequent draft without finishing it, and then attempts to view the instructor's evaluation of the first attempt.

Steps to Replicate

1. Log into Blackboard Learn Ultra Experience as an administrator
2. Navigate to System Admin > Courses > Create an Ultra course
3. Enroll an instructor and student
4. Create a group assignment with a rubric, multiple attempts, and a due date
5. Create the respective groups for the enrolled students for the assignment
6. Take the assignment with one of the students and submit it
7. Navigate to the assignment as the same student and start another attempt, but only save the attempt (do not submit) before the due date and time
8. Go back to the instructor's view
9. Grade the group attempt, assign points based on the rubric, add feedback to some of the rubric items, and post the grade
10. Navigate to the student, navigate to the gradebook and view the score for that assignment
11. Open the feedback and see the score

Expected behavior:

The student should be able to see the instructor's grade and feedback in the grade rubric.

Observed behavior:

The student doesn't see the grade and feedback that the instructor left in the grade rubric.

Summary

Students in Groups unable to see their feedback or the rubric associated with a graded draft assignment submission.
